A Sharp Earthquake at Charleston.

CHARLESTON, October 22.—There was a sharp earthquake shock here at 5.28 this morning. The duration was twelve seconds. Houses were shaken and windows rattled, but no damage was done. The shock was sharp also at Summerville and followed by several "daisy" quakes, as they are called. The telegraphic advices state that the shock was felt at Savannah, Augusta, Columbia, Orangeburg and other points in this State. While the recurrence of quakes is trying to women and children, it causes no interruption either in business or the work of repairing damages, which is progressing vigorously.

COLUMBIA, S. C., October 22.—There was a heavy earthquake shock here at 5.35, lasting thirty seconds. It was preceded by a loud and continuous rumbling, which lasted until the quake passed off. Nearly everyone was awakened by the shock, which swayed the buildings and rattled things lively. It was the heaviest shock felt since the second one of August 31st.

ATLANTA, Ga., October 22.—A distinct earthquake shock here this morning about 11 o'clock.

LACROSBURG, Ala., October 22.—Three large cracks in the earth have just been discovered on the top of "Flat Top" Mountain, adjacent to Pocahontas coal mines, in Tazewell County, evidently caused by the earthquake. One of them crossed the mountain wagon road, and large trees and rocks have been thrown into it so as to make it impassable. The cracks extend a long distance and run north and south.

LOUISVILLE, October 22.—A slight shock of earthquake was felt here at 2:10 this afternoon. It lasted about five seconds, and the vibration was nearly north and south.

CHARLESTON, October 22.—There were two sharp shocks here at 2:45 this afternoon, with equal severity at Summerville, Columbia and Augusta.

BAXTON, N. C., October 22.—Two distinct earthquake shocks were felt here today at about 4 a.m. and 3 p.m.

COLUMBIA, S. C., October 22.—Another severe earthquake shock, accompanied by a loud detonation, has just occurred here (2:45 p.m.) shaking the buildings for about six seconds. No damage was done.

ATLANTA, Ga., October 22.—Two severe shocks of earthquake were felt here today, one at 4:45 a.m. and one at 11:07 p.m.

SAVANNAH, Ga., October 22.—Savannah was visited by two decided earthquake shocks today, the first at 4:55 a.m. local time. This was noticeable for the duration of the tremors, which continued ten or twenty seconds. A good deal of apprehension but no general alarm was caused by it. Many people, hotel guests especially, got up and did not go back to bed. At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, another vibration, accompanied by rumbling noise, was felt. It was equally as severe as the first, but of much less duration. Many claim these shocks were almost as severe as any that have been experienced here, excepting the great shock of August 31st. They were felt everywhere in this section of the state, but no damage is reported.

WASHINGTON, October 22.—A slight earthquake shock was felt here at 2:51 o'clock this evening. The tremor lasted but an instant, but was sufficiently strong to "pi" type on the composing stones in the fourth story of the Star office. The shock was so distinct on the fourth floor of the State and navy buildings that some of the clerks became alarmed and ran into the corridor.

The Emperor's Health.

BERLIN, October 22.—The health of Emperor William is improving.

Crown Prince Frederick William, becoming alarmed at the rumors appearing in the French and Italian papers, telegraphed to Berlin for a special medical statement concerning his father's condition, and it is reported that he received the assuring replies to the effect that there was no cause for alarm, nor any reason why the Crown Prince should hasten his return to the capital.

Another Chicago Fire.

CHICAGO, October 22.—The contents of Jacob's lumber yard and the warehouse of the American Varnish Company were damaged to the extent of $75,000 by fire this evening. Henry Steck, Stephen George and a man whose name is unknown, employees of the varnish company, were badly injured. Steck has a chance for his life; the other two are dying.

Our Rapid Transitory Existence.

Brief as it is at the longest, is liable to be materially curtailed by our own indiscretions. The dyspeptic eat what they should not, the bilious drink coffee and excess, and the nervous, neurotic and consumptive sit in draughts, get wet feet and remain in damp clothes, and then wonder when ill how they became so. To persons with a tendency to neurogia, we recommend a daily use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and always a wineglassful after unavoidable exposure in damp or otherwise inclement weather. Efficient protection is afforded by this pleasant safeguard, which diffuses a genial glow through the system, invigorates and tones it, and promotes nerve tranquility. Fever and ague, biliousness, constipation, dyspepsia and renal disorder, are among the maladies which it remedies and prevents.

CAPTURE OF MANGUS.

His Entire Party Run in by the Military.

WASHINGTON, October 22.—The following telegram from General Miles, dated at Fort Apache, Arizona, October 19, has been transmitted by General Howard to the War Department:

"The detachment under Captain Cooper, Tenth Cavalry, has just arrived at the post, having captured Mangus and his whole party, consisting of Mangus, two men, three squaws and five children, also twenty-nine mules and five ponies, all of which were brought in. (Signed) VILLE, Captain commanding."

These Indians have been pursued by Lieutenant Johnson and others through Chiricahua, Mexico, and New Mexico, since September 7th.

(Signed) MILLS, General commanding.

A later dispatch (dated October 21) from Assistant Adjutant General McKeary, says: The following telegram has just been received by General Miles:

"Mangus, who was captured by Captain Cooper, states that a part of his band was captured by Mexicans and was never heard from afterwards. This would seem to confirm the other reports and give rise to the report that Mangus himself had been killed. Captain Vile, commanding Fort Apache, states that he believes we have all that are left of the Mangus party."

It is learned at the War Department that the Indians above referred to formed a part of Geronimo's band, but separated from that warrior's command last April, when he offered to surrender to General Crook. Nothing definite was known of Mangus's movements after the separation, but it was reported that he had escaped into Mexico and had been killed by the Mexicans.

A Tame Game.

St. Louis, October 22.—The fifth game of the World's championship between Chicago and St. Louis Browns was a very tame affair, the latter winning easily by a score of 10 to 3. The new umpiring plan was revised and a few close decisions satisfied everyone. Guest umpired for Chicago, McQuade for St. Louis, and Kelly officiated between the pitcher's box and the second base as referee. Playing on both sides was very loose, the batting being heavy and the errors numerous.

The Chicagoans seemed, for once, to have lost confidence in themselves, and played wretchedly both at the bat and in the field. Flint especially distinguished himself by his many and costly errors, the Browns scoring no less than four times on as many passed balls, and once on a wild throw to third base. Williamson pitched for the Chicagoans on the first inning, but was knocked completely out of the box, and Ryan occupied that position for the remainder of the game. The latter did good work for a time, but as soon as Flint began to play out, he was obliged to ease up and toss the ball slowly over the plate, and was therefore batted freely and hard. Burns in right field made two costly errors, allowing two men to score, who otherwise would have been left on bases. Hudson pitched for the Browns, and did most excellent work, only three hits being made by his delivery. Game was called in the seventh inning on account of darkness. Of the games played so far the Chicagoans have won two and the Browns three.

Score—St. Louis 10, Chicago 3.

A Fearful Fire.

FARMINGTON, Me., October 22.—A great fire has raged since 8 o'clock this evening. At this hour, 1:30 a.m., the fire is sweeping down Main Street, and will probably consume everything on the west side of the street. The Masonic Hall, Old Fellows' Hall, Chronicle office, Knowlton & McLeary's job printing house, post office, Hotel Marble, Exchange Hotel, and some 15 stores are now in ruins. The burned district thus far is from Hotel Marble down to Pleasant Street. Everything is swept clear, including the jail; thence along Broadway to Main Street, thence up Main Street to Tarbox Bros. store on the west side of the street; also down the entire length of Main Street to the Depot Street on the west side of the Baptist Church is also in ruins. The Methodist and Congregational churches are burning. It is utterly impossible to estimate the loss. A steam fire engine has just arrived from Lewiston in one hour and fifteen minutes. A company from Phillips is also working out. Its labors are almost fruitless on account of the gale which prevails. The People's Trust Company is also burned out. The fire caught in E. Greer's stable, on Pleasant Street, at 7:30 o'clock. No accidents are reported, but everybody is exhausted.

Taffy From Twain.

LONDON, October 22.—Mr. Samuel L. Clemens (Mark Twain) writing to the Scotch Literature and Art Union, thanking it for the honor of electing him a member, says the membership seems to give him a vague spiritual connection with the literary peerage of Scotland, and to make him a comrade of Scotland's Burns.

GLADSTONE.

His Remarks to the Leith Liberal Club.

THAT MAMMOTH CONSPIRACY.

On the Turf—Church Convention—The Arctic Whale Catch—A New Place—Other Notes.

Leith Liberal Club.

LONDON, October 22.—The Leith Liberal Club was opened yesterday. Gladstone sent an apology for his absence and heartily good wishes for the success of the club, adding: Your club was formed during an epoch of the dangerous schism which every good Liberal must desire to heal. It is the object of the Tories to keep dissension alive by postponing the question upon which it arose. He rejoiced to see Lord Monck, dissenting Liberal, suggesting approach, and I hope he will continue his patriotic labors. The Earl of Aberdeen delivered an earnest address, in the course of which he asked his countrymen to consider whether the time has not come to show that our policy toward of en-enslaved Ireland is one of peace, appealing to the best side of human nature. Away, he said, with the notion that the policy is a base surrender to violence. No, it is the policy of peace, which party carries it, which is in sympathy with the best instincts of liberty. Lord Roseberry, in an apology for his absence, wrote: For the present we are in the dark-water of the torrent of passion, which has raged a greater part of the year. We have no policy to oppose. Government's dealing with foreign affairs will be guided by the facts of which we were unaware, but can they use British influence to support liberty and order in the Balkans, firmly maintain the neutrality of the New Hebrides, and while supporting the rights of the North American Colonies in an amicable settlement of the fishery dispute, they will receive the support of all their countrymen. Their Irish policy is still undeveloped. Liberals, therefore, must endeavor to heal the schism in their ranks. I fear the leaders will be able to do little in this direction, but I have unlimited faith in the rank and file during the winter they set themselves to discuss, without passion or prejudice, the question dividing us. They may solve the difficulties that appear more formidable than they really are. We can do nothing without the Unborns, and they can do nothing without us. Both sections will incur a great responsibility if they will allow the party to be permanently broken up without making an effort to prevent it.

Getting Impatient.

SOFIA, October 22.—Government, in reply to Galatz Effendi's note from the Grand Vizier asking the postponement of the meeting of the Sobranje, in order to allow Russia and Porte time to negotiate for a ruler for Bulgaria, says that the reason given for the desired delay cannot be regarded as sufficient, unless the time within which a ruler will be chosen be stated.

A Heavy Haul.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 22.—Customs officers today made a seizure of $20,000 worth of opium on the steamer City of Peking, recently from Hong Kong. The illicit drug was found in packages of merchandise consigned to Chinese firms.

The Arctic Whale Catch.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 22.—The latest reports from the Arctic state that the whaling fleet had captured eighty-six whales to September 20th. The catch was about evenly divided between San Francisco and New Bedford fleets.

In a New Place.

WILMINGTON, N. C., October 22.—Two distinct shocks of earthquake were felt here this morning at about 5 o'clock. One was quite severe and shook houses and awakened a great many people. No damage reported.

Geronimo and His Band.

NEW ORLEANS, October 22.—A special to the Times-Democrat from San Antonio says: Geronimo and his band, under a heavy guard, left this morning for the Florida forts, where they are to be confined.

That Mammoth Conspiracy.

LOUISVILLE, October 22.—The Times publishes an interesting column concerning the northwestern conspiracy attempt of the Confederate government, during the war, to release the southern prisoners in the north, enlist into active service Sons of Liberty, Anti-Lincolns, Copperheads, etc., throughout Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, in a gigantic attempt to create a diversion which would relieve the pressure upon the wings at the front. The active operations were in charge of Judge Thomas H. Hines, with John Castleman as chief adviser. This episode in the secret history of the war times has been forced into public notice by current articles from all quarters on war topics and the details are mainly taken from papers in the hands of ex-Chief Justice Hines, of Kentucky. The success of the conspiracy was to have been largely dependent upon the very large class in the north who were dissatisfied with administration. The story involves the scheme to capture the only gunboats on the lakes, attack Chicago, release Confederate prisoners at Camp Chase, attack St. Louis and the general uprising of Northwestern Copperheads.

On the Turf.

Church Convention.

CHICAGO, October 22.—At the session of the Protestant Episcopal Church, the committee on general theological seminary reported that the contributions for the past three years exceeded $300,000; by far the largest amount ever received within a like period. The committee on marriage and divorce recommended changes in the canon on this subject, which will be discussed tomorrow. The American Church Building Fund Commission reported that it had aided 101 churches to build during the year. The joint houses then met as a board of missions, and it was decided to establish two missionary and synopses for the same, Nevada and Utah to be one, and Wyoming and Idaho the other.

A Pedagogue.

NEWARK, N. J., October 22.—Green backers of the State met in this city today and nominated Frastus Potter, schoolmaster of Port Orme, for Governor.

A BEAUTIFUL CASE.

Pooh-Bah Goodwin, of Logan-Cache County Lines.

Leslie W. Snow, of Brigham City, and a recent graduate from Jefferson Medical College, has made Logan his home. While Logan is a very healthy locality, and consequently offers no special monetary inducements to M. D.'s, we welcome Dr. Snow to our beautiful valley.

Deputies Steele and Exum, and Spotter Will, Deacon-Goodwin, went to Smithfield yesterday, but did no damage so far as known, until they reached Logan, Fifth Ward, in the evening, on their return, when they raided the home of John Jacobs, without however doing any harm, except to frighten the family a little. They departed without the object of their search, and soon peace and quiet reigned in the house. It is a grand thing to enforce just laws among any people, and if the Edmunds' law must be also enforced, in heaven's name give us clean officers to execute it. It is pretty rough to have a commissioner act as spotter, prosecutor, witness and judge, all in the same case; but he should not be "hampered in his duty by any legal restrictions." you know. JAX.

LOGAN, October 2, 1886.

A Family Affair.

There is a curious story in connection with the marriage of Theodore Tilton's daughter to young Pelton whom the dispatches of last week reported to be in an insane asylum in Europe. Her husband's parents were wealthy Louisiana sugar planters, who spent a large part of every year in Europe for the purpose of educating their children. At their death, each other, their daughter and two sons were abroad and remained there, the daughter studying music at one time among the pupils of Liszt, and the two sons at school. The younger son, Willie, was betrothed to a young lady in New Orleans, and at the completion of his university term, returned to America to marry her. On the way, however, in which he took passage was Miss's younger daughter, and they made such progress during the voyage that on landing in New York they immediately went to a minister and were married, secured a return passage on the next outward bound steamer and left a letter for the girl he had jilted which did not reach her until they were again at sea. His family, as well as the friends of the girl he had thrown over, were infuriated at the news, and his eldest brother, John, came immediately to America to apologize and do all in his power to atone for this dishonorable conduct of his brother Willie, who was only 21 years of age. The elder brother begged for an interview with the outraged girl on his arrival in New Orleans and after seeing her was still more astonished at his brother's perfidy, as she was extremely pretty, rich and charming. Other interviews followed, and in less than six months he pleaded to fill the place his brother was to have held, and they were married. In the meanwhile the younger was leading rather a reckless life in Europe plunging into extravagance and exhausting his delicate constitution by a gay life, until the weakness manifested itself, which landed him at last in the ward of a lunatic asylum.

Asia Minor's White Terrace.

It may not be known to those who deplore the recent destruction of the beautiful white and pink terraces of Tarawera, New Zealand, that another white terrace still exists, not far from home, near the ruins of Hierapolis, in Asia Minor. Hierapolis, called by the Turks Pamouk Kalesi, or Hot Springs, is situated on a low branch of the Misongh Mountains, overlooking the Lycus Plain and the ruins of Laodicea, immediately opposite to Colosse, which was built on the slope of the Khonos Mountains, and to Denizli (Diospolis), on Mount Cadmus. When I first saw the terrace from the opposite mountains, some twenty miles off it looked like a breast-plate of silver on a great mountain giant. When I came nearer I found that it was formed by hot springs of sulphur and lime, which descended from a great elevation in dazzling white cascades and formed in their passage downwards by their petrifying power ice-like cliffs, running into natural basins of beautiful and varied geometrical shapes, all calcified covered with petrifications of fantastic forms. On the high plateau whence the springs descend are the ruins of a temple once appropriately dedicated to Pluto. The holy hot bath which stood in the temple courtyard, surrounded by a colonnade, is still in fine preservation, and beneath its deep, clear blue waters can still be seen many a fluted column and finely carved cornice. Gas is continually bubbling up from the bottom of the bath. The chief source of the sulphur springs (the ancient plutonium) is a cave, from which a vapor issues fatal to animal life. This was considered a short cut to Pluto's infernal realms. Not far off is a ruined fountain and cistern, near a well of sweet water, which supplied the whole town with that necessary of life.

An End to Bone Scraping.

Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters, and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well." Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25c. per box by Z. C. M. I. Drug Store.

In the Police Court.

Conrad Newham, the individual who was recently tried and convicted on the charge of malicious mischief, at the instance of Mr. Goldberg, appeared before Judge Pyper yesterday for sentence. He was fined $40.

James Richardson, a plain drunk, paid $5.

George Atwood was fined $5 for a plain drunk, and the same individual and Thos. Leland, charged with engaging in a fight, were fined $7.50 each.

P. D. Sprague, arrested for trespass, will have a hearing to-day.

Ed Tolhurst and George Whitman, two boys, were brought before the court, charged with malicious mischief, they having defaced and destroyed a portion of the fence in front of the Jewish Synagogue. Whitman, being a mere child, sentence against him was suspended during good behavior, and Tolhurst will face the music again to-day to receive sentence.

John Bowman, drunk, profane and resisting the officers, was fined $20.
